

1. Prepare cards. Here is a sample:

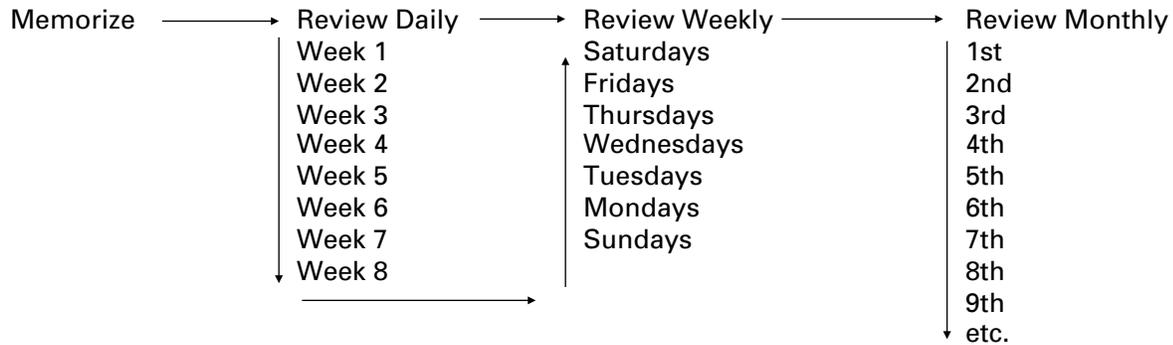

2. Memorize word-perfect.
3. The key to review is rotation.
4. Keep verse in your "daily pack" for 2 months.
5. Keep pack with you at all times and review daily.
6. After 2 months, remove card from "daily pack" and put it in a "weekly pack."
7. Once your first weekly pack (Sunday) is filled with roughly 10 verses, put those in a new weekly pack (Monday) and begin a new Sunday pack. Once that one gets full, rotate the Monday pack to Tuesday & the Sunday pack to Monday, then start another new Sunday. Do this for all 7 days of the week.
8. Once Saturday gets filled, rotate everything down and place the Saturday cards in a "#1" pack to be reviewed on the first day of every month. Continue this procedure until each day of the month is full in addition to each day of the week.

From there, you have several options. You can:

1. Include more verses in each pack.
2. Begin an annual or semiannual pack.
3. Retire verses so familiar and frequently used that they don't need reviewing.
4. Devise another plan to better handle so many verses.

Verse Rotation

Additional Tips

- Don't put the reference on both sides of the card. That way, you can alternate your review so that you can quote the verse by seeing the reference or say the reference by looking at the verse.
- When reciting the verse, it is helpful to say the reference at the beginning and at the end of the verse to connect the address to the verse.
- Avoid learning your verses in any certain order by mixing them up occasionally.
- If you start having problems with a verse in any weekly or monthly pack, pull it out and review it daily for awhile until it comes easily again.
- It's helpful to keep a spreadsheet of all the verses you've memorized and their respective packs.
- Focus on topic, reference, and first three words!
- The three rules: review, review, and review.
- Keep your verses visible! Don't keep them in an area of your room/backpack/etc. that doesn't get accessed often.
- Find ways to review while you're doing something else.
- Get a partner!
- Use scripture memory songs if they will help.

- Go through the Navigators' Topical Memory System at some point.
- Note good verses to memorize in your Challenge notes, church notes, SOAP notes, and however else you hear or read scripture. Make a list of these future verses to memorize, because eventually you might have a hard time thinking of good ones!
- If you fail, try again!
- Now is the time to start! Your brain isn't going to be as sharp as it is now forever.
